The American Association of Port Authorities (AAPA) greatly appreciates the efforts of the Harbors, Navigation and Environment (HN&E) Committee, and especially the leadership of its Chairman, Dr. Geraldine Knatz, for directing the development of this Environmental Management Handbook (EMH). In particular, this project benefitted greatly from the dedicated support of the members of the EMH subcommittee - Dr. Knatz of the Port of Long Beach, Sarah Allender of the Port of Portland (OR), Paul Carangelo of the Port of Corpus Christi, Michael Carter of the U.S. Maritime Administration, Frank Hamons of the Maryland Port Administration, Joseph Monaco of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, and Heidi Rosenberg of the Port of Vancouver (USA). In addition, AAPA wishes to thank all the members of the HN&E Committee who invested considerable time in reviewing each draft and providing their thoughtful comments.

AAPA also wishes to acknowledge the efforts of member ports and their staff who assisted in hosting site visits by the project team. These site visits greatly improved the content of the Environmental Management Practices contained in the Handbook. In addition, the Handbook benefits greatly from the review and comments of other AAPA Committees - Law Review Committee, Hugh Welch of the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey, Chairman; operation Committee, William J. Cotter of the Port of Corpus Christi, Chairman; Public Relations Committee, Sarah Teague of the Port of Mobile, Chairman; and Safety Committee, Barbara McMahon of the Maryland Port Administration, Chairman.

This project was funded by a grant to the AAPA from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA); Kathleen Hurlid was the EPA Project Officer. The Handbook was prepared, under contract from AAPA, by Camp Dresser & McKee, Inc; Daniel A. Viscardi was CDM's Project Manager. Thomas J. Chase was AAPA's Project Manager.
